“What can I say? As I have thought back and looked back through the years, a lot of fond memories of Lois, and the entire family. I think of one time many years ago probably around 1971, or 1972, before I gave my life to Christ, I was somewhat under the influence of alcohol, and was visiting Lois and Aunt Draxie at the restaurant they had at the pound, and evidently said something I should not have to the wrong person, the next day Lois said to me, Jimmy Ray he was ready to shoot you before I intervened. I have always remembered that and every time I come home and pass that place I think of Lois, and that she probably kept me out of a lot of trouble that night. Rest in Peace. Jimmy Ray”
