“ *To the ENTIRE FAMILY,
My heart goes out to each and every one of you. Your son, brother, husband, father, uncle, or Papaw, was a great friend! He would do anything if he thought it would help in any way. When we were in school (back in the dinosaur age) he was a very good friend to me. I remember when James and Melissa started dating. You could tell just by the way they were when they were together that their relationship was made in heaven. From day one until the end of human existence, their hearts will forever be entwined. Melissa, my thoughts and prayers are with you each and every day. Remain the strong woman, you have always been and you will see him when the time is right. He is building your heaven right now. Think of your time apart like this.....he has went on a fishing trip with his brother and when they catch there limit and the corner store runs out of his favorite beer, you will see him again.
I have nothing but respect for your entire family.*

*With love and respect,
Heather Baldwin*
