“What a remarkable, beautiful woman. I will always remember how Michelle always made each individual person feel like they were her best friend and I do believe her heart was big enough to accomodate that. Most of my memories of Michelle are from my childhood during Christmas at my grandmothers house. I recall always being so excited to see her and a bit puzzled about why she would always show up at Christmas with blue jean shorts on. I will always admire the courage she displayed during her battle. Your spirit will shine as bright as the stars always.”

“I miss my dear friend so much already, and I know I'm surely not alone. Although this world just lost a most wonderful person, I know that God gained a mighty helper in choosing our Michele. She never knew a stranger and had no enemies. She truly was one in a million, a diamond in the rough, and anyone privileged to be in her company could see that right away. Her time here was what we might call short, but boy did she have an impact on many. I can only hope to be, and will strive to become, the kind of person in which my friend has set the example. My heart is so saddened and I feel such loneliness knowing that she is no longer just a phone call away. I regret not picking up that phone more regularly and staying in touch more often. My heart goes out to Josh and Jessica, as well as LaRue and all of Michele's sisters, and to all who knew and loved her. Michele, until I see you again my friend, I miss you and love you dearly, as you have been the best friend anyone could ever hope to have. Best Friends Forever, Pam”
