I'm so sorry to hear about Neal's passing. I won't be able to be there but my prayers and my heart is with every member of the family because I know exactly what you're going through. Look to God for strength to make it through the next few days and months to come and just pray to Him when you need His help and He'll be by your side. I ask His help and He always gives me strength to do whatever I need help with. I love you all and I'll be praying for you all. The video is the most beautiful thing I've ever seen!
