“ Well..It's time for SPRING CLEANING and of course, that's something we ALWAYS did together. Memories of us have completely swarmed my brain for days. I feel so..alone without you! I miss my (mother-in-law) BEST FRIEND! I'm trying to hold it together, but sometimes it's still overwhelming. I will love you eternally. PS..U WOULD BE MOST PROUD OF ANGEL AND AUSTIN BOTH! THEY HAVE BOTH GROWN TO BECOME AMAZING INDIVIDUALS! ALL MY LOVE... HEATHER

“ I have survived yet another Christmas without my best friend. As each year passes, so does my joy of celebrating pretty much anything without you. I'm down to just putting up a tree in the living room and half way decorating the mantle. I only fixed one batch of candy this year; no cookies, no friendship cake, no zucchini bread, not even Christmas dinner. I miss you more than I can bare. Nothing will ever be the same without you. The pain is supposed to get easier, but it's not! Not at all! You took a part of me with you and I'll never be able to fill that void! I can hardly wait for the day that I get to see you again!

*This was my 1st year without decorating or even celebrating Christmas AT ALL! Depression for 2 solid months has taken a physical toll on me as well
Miss u EVERY DAY!!*

“ As memorial services at the family cemetery have just recently taken place and the new school year has just started, so many memories of all the years we spent together working our fingers to the bone in preparation for services honoring our loved ones that have past and frantically preparing for school, where we were both employed, to begin the very next day. We would both work almost around the clock; deep cleaning the house, scrubbing the headstones the benches, the pulpit, and the outhouses on the cemetery. We would cook enough food for 40-60 people for service on Saturday and then again on Sunday. When we went to the grocery store to purchase just the food for those two days, I could get off easy compared to you. I remember being in complete awe the first time shopping with you for that weekend. One household, one person preparing that much food for everyone and you and Pap never complained about spending $600-$800 just on food for everyone. You remain in my heart, my thoughts, and in my every day determination to be as much like you as possible! I miss you each and every day and would give my ability to walk and talk just to spend one more hour with you leaning on your kitchen counter having one of those amazing conversations just one more time!! Wish you were here! I need my best friend!!

“ I miss my best friend every single day!! You left and everything fell apart! Nothing will ever be the same. NOT ONE SINGLE PERSON THAT YOU LEFT ON THE HILL THAT MORNING HASN'T HAD OUR LIVES TURNED UPSIDE DOWN!
I MISS YOU MORE THAN YOU COULD EVER IMAGINE!! THE PAIN OF YOUR LOSS WILL NEVER GET EASIER! NEVER!

“Junior, I am so sorry about the passing of Phyllis. She was one of the most kind hearted person any could ever know. One incident I will always rem. is when we were at your camper and she offered to let me use her oxyen while we went out fishing. Never a time was I around her that she did not offer a sandwich or a full course meal whichever she had fixed. Junior the smell of the flowers and the perfume and cologne has stopped me from being indoors with a crowd. If I were able I would come but due to my health I had bettter stay in. You are a very good friend and a good fishing buddy and I will always remember you in my prayers. If there is ever anything good to come out of something as sad as this is that someday you will be with her in heaven. God needed another angel so he sent for her so she would not suffer at the end of her life's journey. Junior if you ever need someone to talk to or come over just call. You have many friends that will help you so please don't think you have to face such sadness alone. Pick up the phone and call one of us. Her smile and presence wil be missed whenever we gather for our reunion. Junior, Phyllis was the type of lady that many men will never enjoy, so consider yourself blessed for being her mate all the years.”
