“ Picture late 1960s. A Christmas party at granny Hilda's and daddy Ned's. The house is full of family singing, dancing , eating and drinking. The record player is blaring playing Jailhouse Rock. Uncle Ronnie and Aunt Priscilla are dancing everyone is standing around them watching. Uncle Ronnie is twirling Priscilla and her back is now to him. He sneaks up behind her grabs her by the pelvic and starts doing the dirty dog. She's screaming with laughter saying what are you doing? She almost Falls and he lets her go just before she does. She turned around and looked at him with a big grin on her face and says oh you dirty dog. Everyone bursts out with laughter.

That was one of the best memories I've had of her. Her smiling and dancing and laughing. She had a beautiful smile.

Love you Aunt Pris. I hope you're dancing in heaven.

“ My sincere condolences to the family of Priscilla. She was my Mother's niece. My mother and her Dad were brother and sister. I met Ptiscilla several years ago at a family reunion in Virginia and fell in love woth her. She was the sweetest lady. We kept in touch for a while and then lost touch. Please know that you all are in my thoughts and prayers.
