“Carolyn and family, I just learned of Coach Cummings passing and am so sorry for your loss. Coach was one fine person and a master at Football. He touched many lives and he was a gentleman's gentleman. I thought the world of him. Randy Rakes Roanoke, Virginia July 17, 2014”

“In addition to playing football (57-61) I was in several of his classes. I looked forward to them and have always felt his influence shaped my life. I maintained contact and last saw him at his brother's funeral here in Richmond. He was a man of character and integrity. I have lost part of my childhood. To his wife and children. He won't be lonely; they have football in Heaven. All of the gone on before former players have been waiting for him to start practice.”

“I graduated from Clintwood High in 1964. I had Coach Cummins for a class and I have always remembered his talk about economics. One example was soap and how he explained that one big company makes the soap and sales it to different soap company. Then the different companies just label it with their name and charge a hugh price. I often think of this when I am searching for a brand name today and several off brands have the same product. It was something that stuck with me all these years. He meant more to the alumni of Clintwood High students than I suppose he ever realized. How were we so fortunate to have him as a teacher, and a coach in our small town. God Bless!”

“Coach Cummins, to many of us, was more than a coach. I, less than a lot of people, got to know him a bit over the years, and appreciated the knowledge, humor and class that he had. If more of us could be as well-rounded as he was, the world would be a far better place. My prayers and thoughts go up to the family and in particular Mrs. Cummins, I know that they are feeling a great loss, but I would just like to thank them for allowing us to share Coach Cummins with us.”

“My prayers go out to this wonderful family. My greatest memories are of the amazing Friday night football games at Ralph Cummins Stadium. The closeness of our students, players, band members, community and fans still rings in my ears with the loud crowd cheers as the Green Waves entered the field. Ralph Cummins made that possible for all us. He was an inspiration to me and my brother Adam or better known as "Blue". A very respected coach, teacher and man! God Bless you.”

“We all know about Coach Cummins accomplishments in football and in the process teaching life lessons to all his players. At the end of the day, he taught us to do the right thing. So simple yet so powerful. Coach made a big difference in my life at a time when it was sorely needed. Along with being a great football mind, he was also a great Teacher. Anyone who can get a boy from Georges Fork interested in the European Renaissance can really teach! Deepest sympathy to Mrs. Cummins and the generations that followed. Please know that his legacy lives on in many.”

“I will miss Ralph, however, I will always cherish the many memories of the conversations we had during Ralph & Carolyn's annual cookouts and in our church. Although I never participated in school sports, Ralph & I shared the love of a good read. We shared many books through the years and shared a love of history. Both of us being veterans, Ralph shared many events of his service during WW!! I noticed he was having trouble walking after morning worship services last winter. He told me that his feet were frostbitten during the war and walking was very painful during the cold weather. See you soon on the other side of the river, brother!”

“My favorite memories of Coach are the Clintwood United Methodist Church picnics we held in the Cummin's back yard. I also remember the steaks that coach cooked on the grill. No one could fix a steak like coach. I asked him once "How do you decide if a player makes the team or not". Coach said I do not determine that, the player is the one that determines that. Coach never gave up on any one. He had a way about him that brought out the best in everyone he met. During some of the toughest days of my life, coach reminded me that everyone gets knocked down. The secret to winning is to always get back up when life knocks you down. Coach, thank you for the life lessons. You are my hero.”
