“Our hearts are broken for all of you! We pray that the peace of Jesus reign in your heart and He heals your brokenhearts! Pleas let us know if we can do anything at all for any of you! We cant understand how something so tragic could happen to someone so young and we know words cant express how sorry we are for each of you! But we are praying God holds you close during this time.”

“On behalf of Bishop Donnie & 1st Lady, Evangelist Rowena Winfrey-Hairston and First Baptist Church Congregation of Tazewell VA, we extend to you our condolences and prayers during this very sad and heart breaking time as you grieve the loss of such a loving young man. Please know that you will continually be in our prayers and thoughts that the Lord will comfort you and give you peace as only He can do. The Student Support Services/Project ACHIEVE program of Southwest VA Community College will dearly miss Ryan's presence here on campus. He came into our office frequently to just talk and hang out for a second. Ryan was also Treasurer of the Black Student Union and very active in getting students involved in our club. We loved Ryan and our hearts are truly breaking. All of us here at SWCC that knew and interacted with Ryan grieve with you in your loss. May the Lord envelope you in His loving arms and carry you through this hurtful season in your life. LOVING YOU TO LIFE! Bishop & 1st Lady Hairston”

“I remember Ryan and his cousins walking down Main Street in Clinchco in mid-August of 2010. I was holding auditions for ΓÇ£Clinchco, The Day After PaydayΓÇ¥ at the Senior Citizens Center in Clinchco. I had been waiting around all day, hoping someone would audition. Fortunately, RyanΓÇÖs grandmother, Edna Gully, showed up to say, ΓÇ£Hi.ΓÇ¥ but even so, I was getting panicky. Finally I went outside with Edna and said, ΓÇ£I am just going to grab people off the street to come audition.ΓÇ¥ ThatΓÇÖs when I saw Ryan and his cousins. ΓÇ£Who is that?,ΓÇ¥ I asked Edna. ΓÇ£ThatΓÇÖs my grandson and his cousins.ΓÇ¥ I looked at her as if she had been holding out on me and flagged them down. I asked if they would be interested in a play. His cousins were not interested, but Ryan looked at me with absolutely no hesitation and said, ΓÇ£That sounds interesting.ΓÇ¥ And so he joined the cast. It was that simple. He used to come to rehearsals with Edna and he may have missed one or two, I donΓÇÖt remember but he came even when he didnΓÇÖt need to. He was interested in everything we were doing. He was quiet, would often sit by himself, but you could tell, he was thinking. As time went on, I began to turn to Ryan for advice and help. He had a good eye and a lot of common sense. He was also a really good actor. Very talented. Smart. I enjoyed working with him so much. He took it all very seriously and listened to directions carefully. One time, I was really kind of stuck. The stage was pretty small and I wanted to have two things going on at the same time. I wanted the Hill family worrying about Jonah on one side of the stage and the card game going on the other side. I remember Ryan coming up while I was struggling with it, quietly offering suggestions. His suggestions were good, so I used them. He and I also worked together the piece where Peg follows Jonah to the card game and watches out for him. Ryan really got into it and I believed his performance 100%. He was a good story teller in his own right. That turned out to be my favorite part of the show. He always remained calm and took everything with a sense of humor. I know he made cast members laugh because someone was always telling me. Ryan is so funny! I'm afraid he was too respectful of me to joke around too much when I was around and I feel that I missed out. I am blessed to have had the opportunity to work with him. I am honored to have known him. I don't know why things like this happen, but one thing I know for sure...Ryan was one of the good ones. My heart is breaking, knowing what his family must be going through right now, especially his mother. My love, thoughts and prayers are with you. May the Lord bring you comfort and strength."

Fortunately, RyanΓÇÖs grandmother, Edna Gully, showed up to say, ΓÇ£Hi.ΓÇ¥ but even so, I was getting panicky. A lot of the folks from the 2008 production were going to be in the show, but I needed a Peg. No matter where you live or what you do, it can be hard to find men to fill roles. Finally I went outside with Edna and said, ΓÇ£I am just going to grab people off the street to come audition.ΓÇ¥ ThatΓÇÖs when I saw these several young men; Ryan and his cousins walking down the street. ΓÇ£Who is that?ΓÇ¥, I asked Edna. ΓÇ£ThatΓÇÖs my grandson and his cousins.ΓÇ¥ I looked at her as if she had been holding out on me and flagged them down. Ryan was kind to everyone. Things can sometimes get stressful during rehearsals. People can get on each others nerves. Especially during the final week before we open. Everyone is doing their best. Memorizing lines and blocking. Tempers can get short, but Ryan never was stressed. He always remained calm and took everything with a sense of humor. I know he made cast members laugh because someone was always telling me. ΓÇ£Ryan is so funny!ΓÇ¥ IΓÇÖm afraid he was too respectful of me to joke around too much when I was around and I feel that I missed out. One thing I really appreciated while we were doing the play is that he let me borrow his computer so we could run sound effects. He was better with the computer t"
