““May God crown you in his kingdom to meet your loved ones. I never knew you but I am blood through your grandfather Billy. We know God takes us when it is time and leaves us to grieve but we know you have a better home than here on earth. Rest In Peace Sandra.”

““Sandra, I have not seen you since we were children, but I have enjoyed reconnecting and our online chats over the years. The only comfort I can give is something I have always been comforted by: 'God takes the prettiest flowers for his garden'. Watch over your family with that contagious smile dear one. You are loved. Love, Stacy”

“Sandra, I will never forget the times we shared together when we were the best of friends. I know that just a few weeks ago we spoke and had planned to have lunch sometime soon, and i hate that it wasn't soon enough. I will always cherish the memories of you teaching me how to play Magic, beating me in WAR, going to get food super late and staying up all night talking about makeup, etc.. You have always been and will always be the one woman that I know of who has perfected that Cleopatra eye, and can apply that liner with perfection.. I have tried, and I still can't do it to this day, and everytime... I think of you! This past week has been a week of reflection for me, and as easy as it is to try and say "shoulda, woulda ,coulda", I will just say that I'm honored to have spent the few years we were friends together, and that I do wish that things could have been different in the end. I know that you are now in a place where your smile will outshine the brightest stars that we can see here on Earth, and you will be that one special angel looking down on everyone. Love, Grace”

“To my beautiful loving sister, We are constantly thinking, and will never to be the same, our tears fall quickly at just the mention of your name. Silence was once golden yet not anymore silence only brings us thoughts that we just can't ignore. Our nights are so sleepless; our dreams are out of reach. Crying in our pillow to you I beseech. Surrounded by our family, I still feel so alone. My heart is so empty, yet this pain I must own. I wish I could hug you and just see your face. But now I only have memories to stand in your place. We love you and miss you so much; Love Jennifer, Deven and Ashley”

“My Dear Sandra, Rest well in the Arms of our Lord and all the Family that has gone before us. Would love to have got to know you better but with a Mother and Father and Grandparents like you have, you are very special. Your Grandfather Billy was my Hero when I was growing up as he always took care of everyone around him. Your Grandmother JoAnn was the most gentle, loving person anyone could imagine. Therefore, you have to be one of the most special little girls anyone could know. Our family has lost an angel on this earth but there will be a brighter heaven with you there. We love you, Aunt Bonnie”

“I found this and it matches Sandra perfectly. I love you Sandra my beautiful sister. My best friend. Sandra our hearts are broken forever, People tell us that in time the pieces will eventually come back together, If this is true, though hard to believe now, there will always be a space, The piece to which has your name on its place. Tears have been falling now for so long, When we think of your beautiful face it all seems so wrong You had so much to look forward to and so much left to do But God needed somebody in heaven who is as special as you. Nothing is the same now and we doubt it ever will be You have been set free. You have touched people, all ages, near and afar On the night you were taken from us, in the sky was a lone twinkling star. Was that you to tell us that you had reached home now? And from life as we knew it, it was time for you to take your final bow. We miss your voice, your smile, your infectious laugh and hearing you sing. Fashion you loved and now you have new accessories, a pair of Angel's wings. The world has lost a wonderful girl, a true and amazing friend. But maybe her goodness was needed to help and from heaven she needed to send. Sandra you are always around us, engulfing us with your love Giving us strength, keeping us close and watching over us from above.”
