How we are going to miss you, Miss Frances. I have known you and your girls for about as long as I can remember. My world was absolutley better because you were in it. I was blessed to witness your love, from your 1st grandchild to your 5th, grow stronger and stronger. I learned that the only thing your passion was greater for was the Lord. And that's why we can all smile through our tears. And it's why your love will continue to better us each day forward. Because we know where you are, we want to see you again, and your love taught us how to get there. The days ahead seem dark for those who love you most. For those two beautiful women who call you mama. For those precious little souls who call you gam-gam. The loss of a mother is always great. But the loss of THIS mother and THIS grandmother will be felt by many everyday. I pray this deep ache for you will bring each of us closer to God. That our desire to hear your voice again will teach us to listen more closely for the loving whisper of our Heavenly Father. I hope you know you did your job. You gave your girls and grandchildren a foundation of faith. And you set an example for us all to follow. So you go rest now, Miss Frances. You open wide your glorious wins and you fly so high! You rest easy and worry never again. You gave us all you had and it was more than enough love to last 1000 lifetimes. Til I see you again, Shana
